

Nebraska Snapshot Day 2012

In one day, 13 Nebraska libraries served 23,095 people.
Here's what some of those people said when asked,
"What does your library mean to you?"

"My Library means paradise to me, as a foreign student. I have a lot of knowledge to learn – books and facilities here are very helpful!"

It is an essential part of any community where you find answers, information, fun, new ideas, books, DVDs, people...

I love the library! The Librarians are wonderful and knowledgeable about so many things. There's something for everyone.

It is the center of my universe. It is so important to the community for access to the internet, reference material and enjoyable reading.

I really appreciated the Autistic Children display because I am a young man with Asberger's Syndrome and although I'm homeless right now...it gave me hope. After all, who knows what tomorrow may bring.

It is a great local source for reading enjoyment, intellectual stimulation and entertainment. The library is one of the reasons I moved back to my hometown.

I love coming to the library with my son, having somewhere it's quiet and clean. The librarians are very nice, friendly people.

When you need help, go to the library.

It means a lot because I do not have Internet access where I live and depend on the library wi-fi to do research for the fitness training book I am writing.

It means a lot to me. Helps me find a job to provide for my family.

I have access to high speed internet and the helpful, smiling faces to greet me!

It's an important part of our community offering not only book resources, etc., but many activities for the community.
